

Price Adjustment Announcement

February 1st
2021

Dear Customers,

In response to sudden escalation of global freight rates and continuing increase on some raw materials cost, Rianlon Corporation announced today that we will adjust price upward on products and regions that are substantially impacted by these cost increases. The new prices will be communicated to you by our sales team and will be effective immediately, or as contracts allow.

We much appreciate your long-term support and understanding of the current special situation. We are committed to providing the best products and services on antioxidants and light stabilizers, and working with our customers through the current challenging time.

Sincerely yours,

Rianlon Corporation
